Palm
Sunday

WELCOME to Epiphany

"He shall judge between the nations and shall decide for many peoples; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

That is our Palm Sunday hope, and it is our only hope. That is what the palms and the shouting are all about. That is what all our singing and worshipping and preaching and praying are all about if they are about anything that matters. The hope that finally by the grace of God the impossible will happen. The hope that Pilate will take him by one hand and Caiaphas by the other, and the Roman soldiers will throw down their spears and the Sanhedrin will bow their heads. The hope that by the power of the Holy Spirit, by the love of Christ, who is Lord of the impossible, the leaders of the enemy nations will draw back, while there is still time for drawing back, from a vision too terrible to name. The hope that you and I also, each in our own puny but crucial way, will work and witness and pray for the things that make for peace, true peace, both in our own lives and in the life of this land.

Despair and hope. They travel the road to Jerusalem together, as together they travel every road we take—despair at what in our madness we are bringing down on our own heads and hope in him who travels the road with us and for us and who is the only one of us all who is not mad. Hope in the King who approaches every human city. And it is a very great hope as hopes go and well worth all our singing and dancing and sad little palms because not even death can prevail against this King and not even the end of the world, when end it does, will be the end of him and of the mystery and majesty of his love. Blessed be he.

Easter Novena of Masses

Beginning on Easter and continuing through Ascension Thursday, every Mass will include a special prayer for the special intentions listed on our Easter Novena envelopes, which are on the table at the back of the church.

Please complete the envelope and place it in the collection basket or give it to a minister or priest.

Easter Giving

What should I give to God at Easter? Truly, all that we have, we owe to Christ, who spared nothing of himself on Calvary. During the Easter season, we build our commitment to God by placing of our treasure where your hearts need to be. Give Him your heart by supporting Christ's Bride, the Church, with a generous donation. Your Easter & Christmas giving provides vital support for our parish.

Thank you for your heartfelt generosity.

March 29 – Holy Land Collection

The Holy Father's Good Friday collection supports the work of the Franciscans, who help to meet the basic needs and education of Christians, descendants of the first believers, who are now only 2% of the population of the Holy Land.

With a generous act of mercy, you can make a big difference in their lives.
