WELCOME to Epiphany

Judgment and mercy

We are all of us judged every day. We are judged by the face that looks back at us from the bathroom mirror. We are judged by the faces of the people we love and by the faces and lives of our children and by our dreams. We are judged by the faces of the people we do not love. Each day finds us at the junction of many roads, and we are judged as much by the roads we have not taken as by the roads we have.

The New Testament proclaims that at some unforeseeable time in the future, God will ring down the final curtain on history, and there will come a Day on which all our days and all the judgments upon us and all our judgments upon each other will themselves be judged. The judge will be Christ. In other words, the one who judges us most finally will be the one who loves us most fully.

Romantic love is blind to everything except what is lovable and lovely, but Christ's love sees us with terrible clarity and sees us whole. Christ's love so wishes our joy that it is ruthless against everything in us that diminishes our joy. The worst sentence Love can pass is that we behold the suffering that Love has endured for our sake, and that is also our acquittal. The justice and mercy of the judge are ultimately one.

D. Moody

Epiphany Climate Pledge

Pope Francis writes in his encyclical that “all it takes is one good person to restore hope”. During this Lenten season of conversion, we urge you to be that one good person who restores hope for a renewal of the creation that God has entrusted to us. Will you embrace this calling of the Lord?

I recognize that I have the power to make a positive difference in the care and healing of the Creation of which I am a part.

I choose, therefore, to undertake a personal conversion of heart--embracing, respecting, and reverencing every thing that God has made.

I choose to pray in thanksgiving for the earth and all its creatures, and ask God for guidance and wisdom in how I can be a better steward, and a better creature.

I choose to live more simply, to consume less, and to recognize my connection, solidarity and responsibility for others—especially for the poor and the marginalized-- and all of creation.

I choose to act and advocate for environmental care, justice and concern for the climate of future generations.

The change begins here, with me, now.

What Should I Give to God at Easter?

Truly, all we have, we owe to Christ, who spared nothing of himself on Calvary. Give Him your heart, by supporting Christ's bride, the Church, with a generous donation. Our Easter & Christmas collection is our most important collection.

Thank you for your heartfelt generosity.

COVID PROCEDURES AT EPIPHANY

The Archdiocese of New York has informed us that mask requirements in church are lifted for everyone; those who wish to continue to wear a mask may do so at their discretion. At this time we are instructed to refrain from offering the Precious Blood, and to offer the Body of Christ in the hand only. Thank you for your understanding as we continue to keep everyone safe from the Corona virus.
